For 2011 we have again revitalised our range of Decorative Glass Overlay materials and bring to the market a whole host of new products that will help designers create even more beautiful decorative glass.

In this 'updates' catalogue, you can see the latest developments in self adhesive leads with more new products from our Polyester Powder coating production line along with an extension of the popular Heritage profile range.

As Fusion tiles are becoming increasingly popular with customers around the world, we have added some new and exciting lines incorporating stunning Spectrum Spirit glass and extended our in stock offering from Italian manufacturer Vetro Suit. Also this year we have worked with a specialist supplier from Spain to bring the latest range 'Forma' which include Gold and Silver leaf.

With the take over of the GlassMaster business in summer 2010, we now have a wider range of bevel clusters available. Manufactured to the same exacting standards as all our other bevel products, these new lines are sure to prove popular. The introduction of several larger clusters designed for full size doors and French doors was driven by demand from our customers who wanted larger bevel sets.

The latest products added to our range are RegaLead Roundels. These pieces have the look of traditional roundels but are manufactured with completely smooth backs so they can be UV bonded and incorporated into Decorative Overlay panels.

As the leader in the Overlay film market, we have continued to develop new products and can now offer a new range of UV printed Polyester films in much larger format- ideal for customers looking to cover large areas.

Other products from RegaLead Ltd

RegaLead is much more than just a supplier of products for Decorative Glass Overlay. We offer a wide range of materials for the decoration of flat glass, ranging from the CadRam system and CadBlast sandblasting range, to the unique ColorSpray system for backpainting of glass.

Bevels

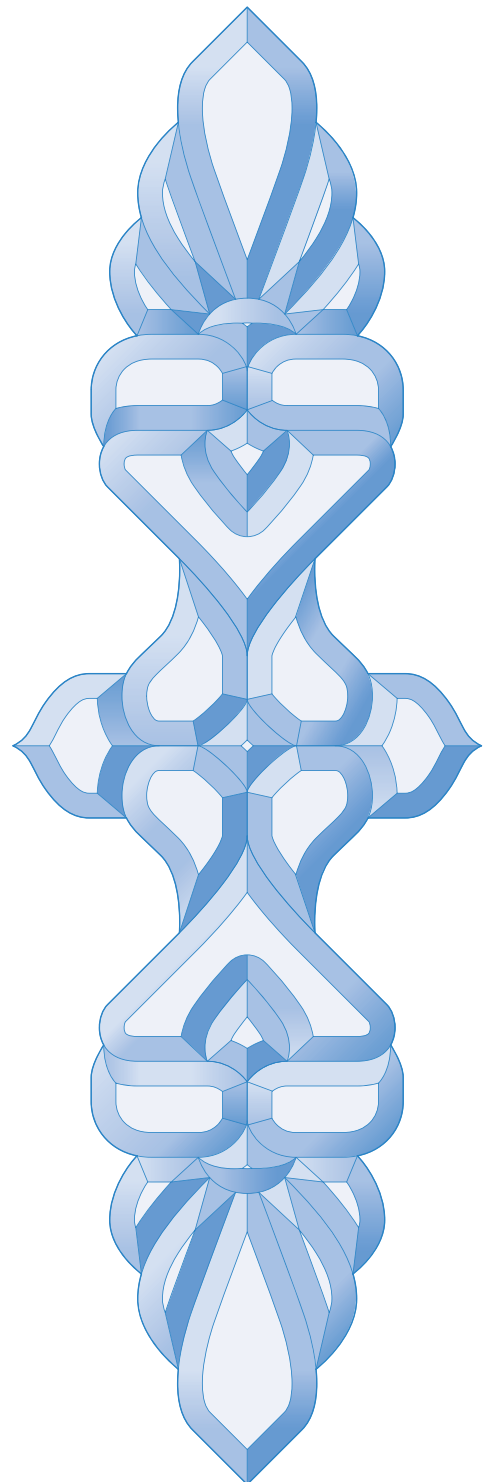

Even with the largest range of bevels available in Europe we have still been asked by customers to add new products, in particular, larger clusters for use in full doors and French door sets. With the take over of the GlassMaster brand we have been able to add some of their unique larger clusters to our range and we have added several small single feature bevel pieces.

Roundels

Roundels are a common feature in Victorian and Edwardian glass design and until now, it has not been possible to add these elements to Decorative Overlay glass panels. With our new manufacturing technique, we can offer the beauty of Roundels with the practicality of smooth backs making them ideal for bonding with UV adhesives.

Large Format Textured Films

For many customers looking to cover large areas of glass our standard sheet size has been impractical but now with the introduction of our latest series of clear textured films these problems have been solved! This latest range of 8 UV printed films are supplied on rolls of 610mm wide x 7.5metres and are manufactured using high quality stable polyester base material and crystal clear UV curing inks.

CadRam was formed in 1999 as a specialist producer of high performance resins and machinery for the manufacture of Decorative Resin Art Glass. In 2009, the CadRam business became part of the RegaLead group and we are continuing to develop this area of flat glass decoration.

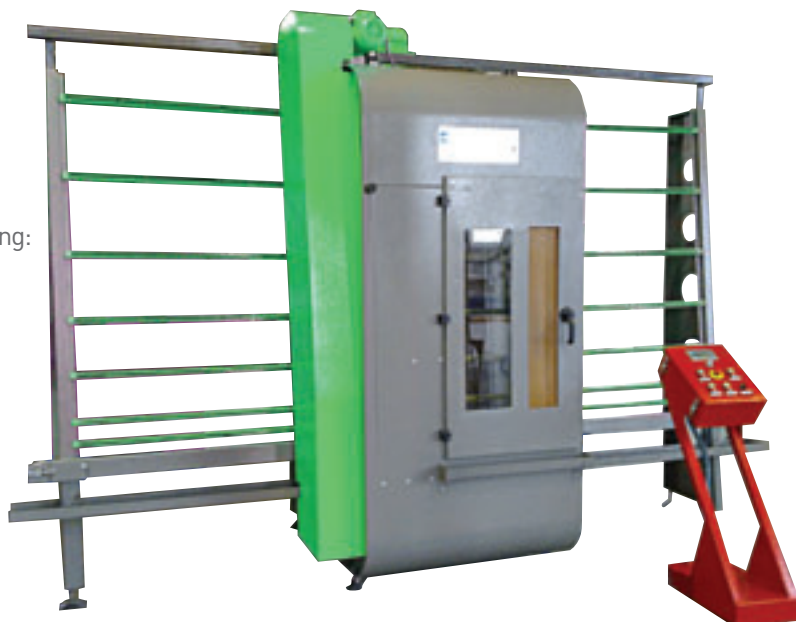

The CadRam system is based around a range of high-quality, colour-stable pigmented resins that are machine dispensed to create incredibly detailed and cost effective decorative art glass. In addition to the wide range of outline relief colours, the system incorporates an infill colouring system that creates an infinite palette of colours.

As the only company in this sector who fully manufacture machinery and formulate resins, we are able to supply custom sized machinery and bespoke colours as well as offering high levels of technical back-up and speedy delivery.

CadBlast is the latest addition to the RegaLead range of flat glass decoration materials and is a full range of materials and equipment for sandblasting of glass including:

- Manual and Automatic machines
- Wide range of Vinyls and application papers
- Range of Aluminium Oxide abrasive grits
- Plotters and software for resist production
- Books and DVD training materials
- Large range of design CD's
- Nanogate Clear and Coloured Fingerprint protection chemicals
- Cadram SandBlast infill colour system

ColorSpray

ColorSpray is a hard-wearing, cost-effective and durable coating for backspraying of glass and can be used both internally and externally in many applications ranging from kitchen splashbacks and glass worktops to spandrel panels and wet room cladding.

ColorSpray is a 2-part, resin-based paint system with a range of just 19 colourants that when used in conjunction with our formulation software, can create thousands of colours from the Pantone, BS, Ral and NCS ranges. In addition to the thousands of colour permutations, we also offer a range of special effect bases and stunning metallic finishes. We also offer a full system including mixing stations for the resins and spray equipment and a range of retail materials to assist customers in selling through the products.
